PARTICIPATION OF THE POOR

The California Migrant Services Program is a comprehensive attempt to provide resources to meet the unique problems of migrant farm workers and their families. As part of the War on Poverty, it demands that those areas and groups to be served, the migrants themselves, must participate in all aspects of the program.

Whatever the peripheral benefits to agricultural employers, the community at large or any other interest, the Migrant Program is of and for the migrants. Their participation is essential both in the development of the program, formulation of policy and in the conduct of the program. It should be the policy of all agencies operating elements of this program to employ migrants and former migrants in all types of jobs. Organization of tenants and parent groups should be encouraged to provide a continuing communication between those administering programs and those being served. The comprehensive participation of the poor is required in the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964. It is critical to the realization of the goals of that Act as well as essential to the success of any program serving that population.

It will be the responsibility of those agencies administering parts of this program that they demonstrate that the migrants are participating to the maximum extent feasible.

SUMMARY

STATE OF CALIFORNIA MIGRANT SERVICES PROGRAM

The Economic Opportunity Amendments of 1967, in Title IIIb, Section 311, provides for programs to assist migrant and seasonal farmworkers and their families to improve their living conditions and develop skills necessary for a productive and self-sufficient life in an increasingly complex and technological society. The federal Office of Economic Opportunity has allocated $2,314,000 to the State of California for the development of migrant service centers throughout the state for the 1969-70 fiscal year.

The State of California as a Migrant Community

Migrant farm workers and their families travel and work throughout California to support the agricultural economy. As non-residents, they are often ineligible for many crucial services.

The statewide plan envisions a comprehensive service support plan for migrants away from home, consisting of integrated and linked programs with the following elements as needed to augment existing services: housing, health, day care, education, and dental care.

Distribution of Migrant Services

The statewide Migrant Services Program provides housing and services for short "flash-peak" harvest needs in 25 existing farm labor housing centers operated by local housing authorities or boards of supervisors and are under construction in two other locations. Facilities can be constructed in those areas which have a short-term migrant impaction.

Components in the Statewide Migrant Program

The Migrant Program under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 can provide augmentation and extension of services to migrant farm workers and their families. The approved grant to California includes the following:

Housing

Durable family shelters for short-term occupancy, including water and sewage service to be constructed by local agencies in areas identified as having severe lack of housing for migrants.

Education

Basic education, general shop education, vocational education and on-the-job training.

Day Care

Supervised care of children and infants while parents work in the fields, including recreation, education, cultural enrichment, health and nutrition.

Dental Care

Dental care is provided to approximately 50% of center residents through mobile dental clinics operated by the University of California School of Medicine, San Francisco, California.

Financing, Administration and Application Procedure

One hundred percent of the cost of eligible projects can be financed under the grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity. Funds may not be used for purchase of land.

Administration of local projects can be by any eligible agency. Public agencies as well as private nonprofit agencies with a prior concern for poverty are among those eligible.

Instructions for Preparing Applications

Applications for funds under the statewide Migrant Services Program should be made to Migrant Services, Division of Farm Labor Services, Department of Human Resources Development, 800 Capitol Mall, Sacramento, California 95814, (916) 445-6000.

The following criteria will be employed by the Local Applications Advisory Board in the allocation of funds for housing projects under the Migrant Services program.

CRITERIA FOR ALLOCATION OF FUNDS FOR HOUSING PROJECTS

MIGRANT SERVICES PROGRAM

- I. Specific sites will be acquired by a public agency to be available for public use for migrant housing for at least five years.
- II. Local applicant agencies shall present evidence to the Local Applications Advisory Board which clearly documents the need for housing units to be occupied during periods of peak labor need. The site selected shall be located in an area where farms are predominantly small.
- III. The selection and acquisition of sites for migrant housing shall be guided by the following criteria in order to assure full consideration of the welfare needs and conveniences of migrants and to preclude private gain or benefit inconsistent with the purposes of the grant:
  - a. Proximity to community and community utilities: i.e. water supply, sewage treatment and garbage disposal;
  - b. proximity to harvest area which attracts migrants;
  - c. accessibility to educational, day care, and health facilities if these are not to be on the site;
  - d. convenience to grocery, laundry, drug, gasoline, and other services;
  - e. ease of access and discovery from major thoroughfares used by migrants;
  - f. size adequate to meet the minimum space requirements of the proposed camp including social factors. Density of housing units shall be not more than 10 units per acre excluding area required for sewage treatment facilities;
  - g. capability for the development of a domestic water supply and a sewage disposal system which meets state and local sanitation requirements.

MIGRANT FAMILY HOUSING SERVICES

I. Shelter Units

A. The shelter units meet the following criteria:

1. Basic family shelter units must be large enough to shelter a family of five and include a minimum of 448 square feet of interior floor space. Families exceeding five or with more than three adults will be expected to occupy a second shelter.
2. Units provide adequate protection against normal environmental factors including heat, cold, wind and rain to permit comfortable and healthful occupancy.
3. Individual living units are durable enough to withstand the hard use that can be expected. They should be resistant to fire, mildew and insect damage. Minor repairs should be simple and inexpensive.
4. The shelters developed with this grant must meet the minimum social and physical needs of the occupants. The installation of such shelters are subject to requirements set forth by local zoning, sewage disposal and water supply ordinances.
5. Notwithstanding the provisions of California Labor Code, Section 2629, the shelters developed must conform to minimum standards of construction, occupancy and safety, applicable to temporary buildings in labor camps.

II. Plans

- A. Plot plans and detailed descriptions of the proposed facility must be on file in the state office prior to the start of construction. No invoice will be honored for major construction except in those cases where detailed construction plans and specifications have been approved by the state. Major construction includes any construction of central facilities of a permanent nature including but not limited to utility buildings, showers, education and day care buildings and administrative buildings.

B. Sites

Specific sites will be acquired as needed for all temporary housing acquired with assistance under this grant. Lease of sites will provide that the sites be available for public use for migrant housing for at least five years.

1. No contract funds are available for the acquisition of land. In those cases where it is warranted by special conditions, funds will be available for rental or lease of land.
2. No permanent capital improvement may be constructed on or to serve land not in public ownership. Permanent capital improvements may include but are not limited to roads, sewer systems, water systems and permanent buildings.

C. Facilities

1. Migrant Service facilities, including all improvements constructed or installed with assistance under this grant, will remain in public ownership or subject to exclusive public use and control for a period which is reasonable in view of the purposes of this grant and the character and value of such sites and improvements.

III. Administration

A. Personnel

1. Each migrant shelter facility must be staffed to adequately maintain and supervise the facility.

a. Manager

- (1) Responsible to governing board for camp administration;
- (2) Supervision of staff;

(3) In those situations in which an existing farm labor supply center is being augmented, a coordinator responsible to the manager of the existing facility may be engaged to assist the manager in supervising the augmented facility.

b. Camp Aides

- (1) These are to be recruited from the residents of the camp;
- (2) There should be no more than one aide for each twenty-five families;
- (3) There should be no more than one aide employed from any single family unit;
- (4) Must have clearly defined jobs with definite training and supervision;
- (5) These positions are designed to provide maintenance and extend social services to the camp occupants;
- (6) Camp aides are not qualified to operate program elements except under direct supervision of qualified personnel.

c. Other Staff

- (1) Technical personnel including architects, engineers and sociologists may be engaged for specific jobs which are in the approved contract agreement;
- (2) Existing maintenance and clerical staff can be augmented to provide for increased workload as long as every attempt is made to provide opportunities for camp occupants in trainee and aide positions where appropriate;

d. Statement of Personnel Policy

Personnel

The contractor will be expected to employ only capable and responsible personnel who are of good character and reputation, are sympathetic with the objectives of the Economic Opportunity Act and the administrative policies promulgated thereunder, and are not members of subversive organizations. While the attainment of a high level of education and prior experience may be essential to performance in certain capacities, every consideration should be given to providing opportunities to poor persons who have been denied the benefit of formal education and who are willing to learn to perform new functions.

Within thirty days, the grantee will submit to OEO a detailed biography of the Director of the staff which is to work on the community action program.

This is a model contract and may be changed to fit particular circumstances and latest OEO policies.

1. The Contractor shall comply with the standards of maintenance and protection set forth in the California Migrant Master Plan Maintenance Manual (dated December, 1967) which has previously been provided to the Contractor, and which is summarized in subdivisions 2 and 3 of this clause;
2. The Contractor shall thoroughly clean, sanitize, and repair appliances, toilets, sinks, showers, electrical wiring, furniture, walls and floors of each dwelling unit and provide adequate ventilation for each dwelling unit; drain water lines, basins and toilets where there is a danger of damage from freezing; paint shower stalls, bed frames, tables and chairs where needed; repair and clean windows and window screens; caulk sinks, wash basins, shower stalls, windows and doors, and floor to wall exterior joints where needed; if there is a laundry building on the premises the Contractor shall disconnect and repair the equipment, drain water lines, thoroughly clean the building and equipment, and secure the building for the winter; if there is a day care building on the premises the Contractor shall clean and repair the building in the same manner as with dwelling units; if there are outside toilets and showers on the premises, the Contractor shall clean and repair and drain water from these facilities in the same manner as with dwelling units;

4. The Contractor shall wash the exterior of all dwelling units and related buildings covered by this contract, and if excess property paint is provided by the State or funds for paint provided in the off-season Budget for this contract the Contractor shall paint the interior and exterior of all dwelling units and related buildings which are in need of paint; provided that lead-based paint shall never be used on building interiors; where appropriate for maintenance purposes, painting may be done in lieu of washing;
5. The Contractor shall cooperate with the State in scheduling maintenance and protection to prepare the housing units and related facilities covered by this contract for on-season or off-season occupancy.

II

During the period of this contract which is designated as on-season by the State, the Contractor shall maintain and operate the housing units and related facilities covered by this contract for occupancy according to the following specifications:

1. Absolute priority shall be given at all times in granting occupancy and use of the housing and other facilities constructed with OEO Grant funds on a first-come first-served basis to migrant and seasonal farm workers and their families who normally are domiciled outside the commuting or "day-haul" area of the housing to which they apply;
2. For the purposes of clause 1 of this Exhibit, migrant or seasonal farm workers are persons who fit within the following described classifications, as determined from inquiry made of the housing applicants by the Contractor:
  - a. at least fifty percent of the total annual income of the applicant's household must have been earned in agricultural employment on a seasonal basis for more than one employer during the current or preceding calendar year;

CC

b. the total annual income of the applicant's household during the current or preceding calendar year must have fallen within the following limits -

Family Size	Non-Farm Families (Families that do not grow a major portion of their own food supply)
1	$1,800
2	2,400
3	3,000
4	3,600
5	4,200
6	4,800
7	5,400
8	6,000
9	6,600
10	7,200
11	7,800
12	8,400
13	9,000

In addition to the above criteria, the qualifying income earned by the applicant's household must have been earned in, and the applicant's own usual occupation must be employment in, one or both of the following described occupations:

c. Migrant Farm Worker - A migrant farm worker is a seasonal worker in agriculture or agriculturally related seasonal industry who finds jobs by moving each year to one or more work locations beyond normal commuting distance from a place he calls "home". Customarily he returns to his home when the crop season is over elsewhere. Even in this so-called "home" community he may be disqualified for certain community benefits and services afforded other citizens because of his seasonal migration to other parts of the country. Frequently family dependents accompany the worker's seasonal migration and they may also work in agriculture and related seasonal industry. For purposes of this description, agriculturally related seasonal industry is defined as farm work or work related to the crops which is exempt from the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act as they relate to wages and hours, including overtime after a 40-hour week;

d. Farm Worker - a farm worker works on a farm devoted to diversified agriculture, performing duties requiring a knowledge of livestock and crops and maintenance of structures and equipment: prepares soil for planting by plowing, harrowing, and fertilizing; seeds, cultivates, sprays and harvests crops, using a variety of horse and tractor-drawn machinery; may irrigate crops; tends livestock and poultry, observing general conditions and administering simple medications to animals and fowls; hauls feed to livestock during grass shortage and winter months; operates, repairs, and maintains farm implements and mechanical equipment, such as tractors, gang plows, ensilage cutters, hay balers, cotton-pickers, and milking machines; repairs farm buildings, fences, and other structures; may haul livestock and produce to market.

The Contractor shall in good faith cooperate with the State in efforts to assure that the above definitions are interpreted and applied in a manner consistent with applicable law and OEO regulations.

3. The Contractor shall limit residence within the housing center to persons and their families who qualify for occupancy of the housing units, except that occupancy of the housing center premises by others in temporary or movable shelters may be permitted if approved by the State.
4. Not more than thirty (30) days after a housing center has become at least fifty percent (50%) occupied, the Contractor shall assist and encourage the residents of the housing center to elect from among themselves a Resident Council, consisting of seven persons, which shall have the following responsibilities:
  - a. elect from among themselves a chairman,
  - b. advise the resident manager of the housing site on any matter pertinent to the operation of the housing center, including the hiring of aides,
  - c. determine, upon application, which non-resident groups may use common center facilities,
  - d. recommend such improvement in housing center operations or programs as may reasonably be paid for from rental income available under this contract for such purposes or from fees collected for the use of common housing center facilities by non-resident groups,

- e. represent all residents of the housing center on matters which properly should be presented to the housing center resident manager, the State, or the OEO.
5. The common facilities of any housing center, such as the day care building, shall be available for the general use of the housing center's residents at any time such facilities are not required for regular day care programs or similar ongoing activities; the Contractor shall have primary control over the day care building for the purposes scheduling and preparing its use as a day care center for the children of residents at the housing center;
6. 8. The Contractor may charge housing center residents for occupancy at the maximum rate of $.75 per day per family for plywood conventional housing lacking internal sanitary facilities, and $1.00 per day per family for plywood conventional housing which has internal sanitary facilities. Upon written order of, and as directed by, the Director of the Department of Human Resources Development, the Contractor shall deposit to a special account in the State Treasury all monies collected as rent.

Migrant Infant Care

Migrant infant care services are being initiated in the 1970 operational year at selected Migrant Family Housing Centers. This service is being developed in a demonstration project basis in conformance with infant group care standards adopted by the California State Department of Social Welfare. This program provides for infant care for migrant agricultural families in cooperation with Day Care/Pre-school programs operating at the same centers.

Project Description

A PROJECT TO PROVIDE GROUP INFANT CARE SERVICES
AT SELECTED PUBLIC FARM LABOR CAMPS IN CALIFORNIA

Problem

Although a comprehensive program of day care/preschool services has been provided for the 25 currently established Master Plan Farm Labor Camps throughout the State, no infant care services have been available through supervised programs. With the establishment of State standards for group infant care, attention is called to the marked need for such care among the migrant agricultural workers of California. Due to the nature of the adult migrant farm labor force, those members of the family group who would be expected to care for the very young children must contribute to the family income by working in the field with other family members. As a result, infants must be left in the care of other young children (often to the deprivation of school experiences for the caretaker), or taken to the fields to be left in cars or laid on the ground at rows end while the mother works her way down and back.

Home care of infants has proven to be no solution to the problem. The migratory aspect plus the lack of suitable facilities for home care in the camp, and the lack of available homes among permanent residents of the area, has precluded the possibility of individual home care as a solution. The proposed group infant care program, operating in cooperation with established child care centers now offers a hope for safe, dependable care specifically designed to safeguard desirable emotional and physical development of each infant served.

Significance

A successful program of group infant care will have both local and wide ranging significance. At the center level this program will provide a much needed service contributing toward the physical and emotional needs of the infant, removed from a potentially hazardous condition to an environment that will be safe and secure, with his physical and psychological developmental requirements met in accord with infant group care standards developed by the State Department of Social Welfare.

On a wider scale, this project will demonstrate that the feasibility of group infant care to adequately provide for the previously unmet needs of migrant families and others who have no satisfactory provision for infant care during the work day. Other farm labor camps, other rural, suburban and urban neighborhoods might visit this program as an example of the proper care which can and will be provided our children.

Method of Approach

This project proposes to establish three group infant care programs at three established farm labor camps. Children's Day Care/Preschool Centers are currently operating at these camps at Harney Lane (San Joaquin County), Dixon (Solano County) and Gridley (Butte County). At each of these centers, facilities will be built, improved or temporarily leased pending building, in which a complete program of group infant care will be developed according to Federal Interagency Day Care requirements and the standards adopted by the State Department of Social Welfare. Each program will operate in coordination with, but physically separated from the Child Care Centers for 2 through 5 year olds. Infants served will include all those of migrant families living in the temporary public housing in the respective camps. Harney Lane and Dixon will serve up to 32 infants in each center, and Gridley will serve up to 20. Waiting lists will be maintained for applicants over these maximums. The age group to be included is from approximately 6 weeks to 2 years.

A program of health and nutritional services will be maintained, with frequent screening and any necessary followup services. Individual dietary requirements of the infants will be closely observed.

Staffing will be in accord with SDSW standards, with a sharing of some personnel (cook custodian, community worker) with the Day Care/Preschool Program. Hours of operation will be from about 5:30 AM to 6:30 PM, adjusted according to the local working hours of parents.

Operational accountability will be delegated to Regional Migrant Education offices under agreement with the Bureau of Community Services and Migrant Education. The program will be monitored closely by the members of this Bureau as well as consultants from the Bureau of Compensatory Preschool Education and regional supervisors. Required Social Welfare services will be provided by social workers from those local Social Welfare offices of counties in which centers are located.

Each center will conduct a program of preservice and inservice education providing a background knowledge of child development theory and practice, with emphasis on the warm relationship needed between infant and worker. Parent education will be an ongoing component of the program.

The program will coordinate with all agencies providing services to the migrant families.

All positions will be filled with mothers from the migrant population served, with emphasis on bilingual (Spanish-English) ability.

Results Expected

This program is planned:

1. To provide infant care for camp resident infants from about 6 weeks to 2 years of age.
2. To provide employment for a number of resident migrant family members.
3. To provide training for mothers of families served.
4. To provide coordination of the various professional agency activities serving the needs of the migrant family.

Scientific Assessment of Results

The program will provide a statistical abstract of infant attendance, health services provided, nutritional services, family data, visitors, expenditures, etc.

Reports will be developed to reflect the attitudes of parents and staff toward the program and program activities.

Evaluative instruments pertaining to physical and emotional development will be examined and tested for practicality for future use.

Local Program Improvement

As indicated, this program is needed to provide a full service for child care at the camp level. With this program established, the migrant family will have available care of children of infant age through age 5. Local individuals and groups will have an opportunity to view a model program which may provide impetus for further development of other local programs.

Significance to Other Areas of the State

This project will have immediate expansion possibilities to other farm labor camps as funds become available. In addition, this project will provide centers which can be used as demonstration programs to visitors statewide.

Project Personnel

All project personnel will be chosen in accordance to Sections 34513, 34517, 34521 and 34527 of the adopted Standards for Infant Group Care, California State Department of Social Welfare. Each center will have a director and assistant director meeting personnel qualifications described. Aides will be chosen from among mothers of migrant families served to the maximum extent possible. Staffing ratios and requirements will be closely observed at all times.
